

Bienvenido a Gringo's!

Welcome to Gringos! We pride ourselves on providing fresh and authentically cooked food, made here at Gringo's, with South American style... not a bought in sauce or microwave in sight!

Our meat is responsibly sourced from local butcher Lindsay and Son and George Campbells the fish monger.

Please feel free to ask waiting staff for any more information on dishes, if we can meet dietary requirements, or let them know if you have any allergies!

Taco's

As opposed to the American version of a 'taco' shell, in Mexico, tacos are eaten daily and referred to as any filling that has been wrapped in a small soft tortilla.

Gringo's tacos come with your choice of delicious filling, plus fresh iceberg lettuce, sour cream, our own salsa and pickled red onions. (note; the cooked fillings are served warm, but the rest are raw so please don't expect tacos to be piping hot throughout)

Shredded chilli and lime chicken, charred bell peppers, chimichurri

Slow cooked ox-tail, rich Mexican mole sauce (P, N) sticky carrot strips

Classic Fried Fish Tacos, lemon peas, chimichurri (F)

Crispy fried avocado, beetroot, sticky carrot strips, chimichurri (V or Ve)

Roasted Cauliflower florets, re-fried beans, sun-dried tomato and pumpkin seed crumble, sticky carrot strips (V or Ve)

Add Guacamole – 80p

Add Re-fried Beans- 70p

Add Cheese – 60p

Get in My Belly Bowls

Just as in Scotland, the hardy folk of Latin America love a steaming bowl of something warm and hearty to comfort the soul, and the streets are filled with stalls and vendors selling just that.

At Gringo's we will be serving soups and stews hailing from Mexico to Argentina to give you all a taste of Latino soul in bowl.

Hot off the Grill

On one of his voyages to the Americas, Christopher Columbus reportedly found native Taino people cooking food on sticks over fire, which they called 'barbacoa'. Grill and BBQ cooking is the still the traditional style of many Latin American countries.

Sweet Street

It's fairly safe to say that most Latin American countries are not short of a sweet tooth or two... As well as lots of beautiful exotic fruit; pastries, doughnuts and puddings are abundant in street stalls and the mouth-watering caramel known as 'dulce de leche' can be tasted in delicious cakes and desserts throughout.

Churros – These crispy fried pastries are a classic Street Treat and come with your choice of Chocolate or Dulce de Leche Caramel dip (Ve opt available)
